

WOULD PROTECT VIRGINIA'S GAME

Association Seeking to Save the Animals of Field and Stream.

LONG ROLL OF MEMBERS

List Contain Many Prominent People of Every Section. Legislation Proposed.

With the falling leaves and coming frosts, the thought of field sports inspires the American as possibly it does no other people. The extent of their preparations are very great, not only in every State in the Union, but in the Canadian provinces.

The rapid depletion of game of various kinds in many States has made it necessary to enact more stringent laws for its protection. The automatic fire arms have not escaped condemnation; residents, as well as non-residents, are required to pay a hunting license. This, by the way, has become a popular means of reimbursing the State for the maintenance of a department of game and game protection.

The Legislature of this State, at its next session, may create a State Game Commission. Under the supervision of such an officer, hatcheries could be established and new varieties of game imported; and Virginia would soon become the most popular hunting grounds in the Union. Much of the waste land would be taken up and cultivated as preserves by men who spend large sums of money for recreation in the field, thus materially assisting the residents of the hunting sections in addition to the State's revenue by increased taxable values.

It has been suggested that a resident hunting license, such as is required in many States, be imposed. One State, with a $1 license, collected $5,000. Virginia could certainly raise $25,000 to $30,000 from this source, which would be a magnificent fund for so worthy an object.

It might be interesting to note that a gentleman of this city last year raised eighty pairs of quail and thirty pairs of pheasants, with perfect ease; these were distributed in the country. Strange to say, this hatchery had its beginning on the tin roof of a back building.

The Virginia Game Protection Association is active in its efforts to propagate and protect game, but its hands are cuffed for the want of funds. Its meeting in this city Thursday evening last sparked with interest. Many original ideas were advanced.

Dr. J. B. Fisher, of Middlethian, is president of this organization, and will in a short time appoint a committee on legislation. The committee will look carefully into the present condition of the game law and draft such amendments as may be deemed judicious. It will be practically impossible to have a statute that will please every one, but that which will result in the greatest good to the largest number will be sought.

This association, organized last February, has on its roll at present 27 members scattered over the State. Mr. J. T. Christian, of Richmond, is secretary, and will be glad to give any information as to the game laws of our State, or any facts pertaining to the association. He will be glad also to add to the membership of the association by enrolling all those who would like to join. The annual dues are $1.

VIRGINIA BRIEFS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHATHAM, Va., October 21.—The Town Council last night adopted resolutions carrying an issue of bonds amounting to $100,000 for the purpose of improving the sidewalks and to retire outstanding water works bonds. Judge Saunders will pass upon the resolution. The building court here and will fix the date when the bond issue will be voted upon.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., October 21.—Ground was broken here today for the erection of new home for the Lynchburg Y. M. C. A., which is to cost $100,000. The estimated cost of the building is $100,000. Fifteen thousand dollars is needed yet to complete the building free of debt and a whirlwind campaign is to be inaugurated in a few days to secure the necessary funds.

WINCHESTER, Va.—Charles Cooper, a bartender, is in a serious condition as the result of falling down a stairway into a pile of broken bottles to-day, sustaining severe cuts and severing an artery in his neck. The timely arrival of a physician prevented him from bleeding to death. Cooper was until recently in the United States navy.

CRUEL TREATMENT.

Superintendent of the Yackin County Farm Under Arrest.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WYOMING, N. C., October 21.—Before Yackin county Superior Court adjourned to-day, M. H. Bryant, superintendent of the County Home, was arrested and placed under a $500 bond for his appearance at the next term of court to answer the charge of cruel treatment of inmates.

Solicitor Hammer says his attention was first called to the charges against Superintendent Bryant by the State Board of Charities. In that body he met Captain Edmond Moore, who was a native of Charleston, City county, Va. He enlisted in the war of 1812, when he was twenty years old, and served with conspicuous bravery and courage throughout. He moved to Halifax county, where he was a devoted Christian and passed away, leaving a loving wife and children. Mrs. Moore now makes her home with her only surviving daughter, Mrs. W. O. Russell, whose tender love and care for the aged mother, in the autumn of her days is something beautiful and touching.

KILLED BY FLAT CAR.

State Fair Receipts Roosevelt Day Breaks All Records.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 21.—E. H. Rogers (colored) was killed this morning by a flat car on the Norfolk and Western. The negro was running the car and in some way let it get from under his control as it passed over a trestle. The car was some way rolled under the rear wheel, so that his body was badly mangled. E. A. Harwood, one of the clerks of the company, was on the car and escaped injury. He jumped for his life. The forty-eight minutes after the accident, the company was broken down, due of course, to the visit of President Roosevelt. The receipts Thursday are estimated at $50,000.

A SPLENDID COMPANY OF VERY OLD PEOPLE

Ten Sat Around the Board Aggregating Seven Hundred and Twenty Years.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WELDON, N. C., October 21.—Mrs. Mary E. Moorecock, widow of Captain Edward Moorecock, who was a soldier in the war of 1812, celebrated her 94th birthday on the 18th, in honor of the interesting event, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Green entertained her at a splendid birthday dinner. The guests present were Mrs. Mary E. Moorecock, honor; Mr. W. T. Whitfield, Mr. George G. Gary, Mr. M. D. Ashbrook, Mrs. S. M. Lookhart, Mrs. Anna Pope, Mrs. M. E. Cochran, Mrs. J. H. McGee, Mrs. W. T. Whitfield, Mrs. Emily Campbell.

It was as fine a company of old people as could have been assembled in any town in North Carolina. The aggregate age of the ten present was nearly 800 years. The head and foot of the table, Mrs. Moorecock and Mr. Whitfield, represented 160 years. Nine of the guests present had a combined age of exactly 720 years.

Mrs. Green and Miss Bessie Green presided in the dining room and served the dinner with gracious and delightful hospitality. Those present were all old friends and patients of Dr. Green, and appeared in remarkably good health and spirits, and Dr. Osler could have had no sympathy in that happy party of "old" "young" people.

Mrs. Moorecock was formerly Miss

Mary E. Southall, of Amelia county, Va. Her parents moved to Gates county, this State, when she was an infant. It was in that county she met Captain Edmond Moorecock, who was a native of Charleston, City county, Va. He enlisted in the war of 1812, when he was twenty years old, and served with conspicuous bravery and courage throughout. He moved to Halifax county, where he was a devoted Christian and passed away, leaving a loving wife and children. Mrs. Moorecock now makes her home with her only surviving daughter, Mrs. W. O. Russell, whose tender love and care for the aged mother, in the autumn of her days is something beautiful and touching.
